

Book Week

This year's theme is 'Old worlds, new worlds, other worlds'. Here are a range of activities to engage your students this week, particularly for those remote learning.

This a STEM | ED Magazine x
MoAD Learning Collab

Create a 3D model of an Old World, New World or Other World. What would the environment look like and animals?	Write and record a book review on a book of your choice. Be creative... present as the main character or take inspiration from your favourite news reporter	Design and make a game to accompany your favourite book.	Create a new poster for Book Week based on the theme, 'Old Worlds, New Worlds, Other Worlds'.
	Create a bookshelf scavenger hunt.	Choose a book that matches the Book Week theme. Perform a dramatic/ expressive reading for your teacher or parent.	Recreate an scene from your favourite book this could be a house, nature space, vehicle or structure.
Snap yourself in a book face photo. Pick a book, create the scene and snap a picture with the book covering your face.	Storyboard, write and record your own story linked to the Book Week Theme Old World, New World or Other World	Host a book club. Plan, design invites and ask everyone to share their favourite book. What questions will you ask?	Make a meal to accompany your favourite book. What food would the characters enjoy eating?
Design and create a recycled costume to go with your favourite book	Design a puppet (and puppet show!) to go with a book that suits the Book Week theme		Create a main character to go with the Book Week theme. Design and create using recycled materials, playdough or natural materials.

This activity can be freely used by educators or families. Resource created by MoAD Learning + STEM ED Magazine.

If you want to share some of the creations of students, please feel free to tag us @stemedmagazine + @moadlearning.