MUSEUM OF AUSTRALIAN DEMOCRACY AT OLD PARLIAMENT HOUSE
Celebrate the spirit of Australian democracy and the power of your voice within it.
Australia has one of the most remarkable democracies in the world, and the Museum of Australian Democracy is our most important national voice in telling the story of how Australians have built that democracy, and how they can keep and improve it.

– THE HON DR DAVID KEMP

If democracy was an Olympic sport we would be gold medal champions.

We’ve pioneered many democratic ‘firsts’:
– The secret ballot
– Professional, salaried electoral officials
– Votes for women and their right to stand for election
– A constitution approved by the people

“Australians are apathetic about their democracy - over one million voters are missing from the electoral roll. The vision of the Museum of Australian Democracy is to celebrate the spirit of Australian democracy and the power of your voice within it. We make a difference - inspiring informed and engaged citizenship.”

DARYL KARP, DIRECTOR, MUSEUM OF AUSTRALIAN DEMOCRACY AT OLD PARLIAMENT HOUSE, 2015
BUILT IN THE 1920s, OLD PARLIAMENT HOUSE IS A BEAUTIFUL NATIONAL HERITAGE-LISTED BUILDING AND A TREASURED ICON THAT SYMBOLISES AUSTRALIAN NATIONHOOD AND UNITY.

Designed by John Smith Murdoch, Australia’s first purpose-built federal parliament building still displays much of the original 1927 furniture and fittings, creating an authentic experience.

Every part of the building tells a story. From the balconies, staff and workers watched as protests were held in opposition to the policies of the day. In the offices, libraries, party rooms, chambers and even the bar, the future direction of Australia was decided. The armchairs got comfortable and the floors well-worn as thousands of people passed through this building over the years, on their way to govern the country, write the newspaper stories, cook the meals or advise the minister.

The impact of these people on the nation over the past 88 years makes this building an Australian icon.

Positioned in the heart of the Parliamentary Triangle, Old Parliament House has a new future as home to the Museum of Australian Democracy – celebrating the spirit of Australian democracy and the power of your voice within it.

“MAY THOSE WHO ENTER THIS OPEN DOOR GOVERN WITH JUSTICE, REASON AND EQUAL FAVOUR TO ALL. MAY THEY DO SO IN HUMILITY AND WITHOUT SELF-INTEREST. MAY THEY THINK AND ACT NATIONALLY. MAY THEY SPEAK WITH THE VOICE OF THOSE WHO SENT THEM HERE – THE VOICE OF THE PEOPLE.”

– STANLEY MELBOURNE BRUCE
ONLY 56% OF AUSTRALIANS BELIEVE THEIR VOTE MATTERS. AT THE 2013 FEDERAL ELECTION INFORMAL VOTES WERE THE HIGHEST IN 30 YEARS*.

1 MILLION ELIGIBLE AUSTRALIANS ARE NOT ENROLLED TO VOTE IN FEDERAL ELECTIONS

DEMOCRACY HAS ALWAYS BEEN THE ODD ONE OUT IN HUMAN HISTORY. EVER SINCE ITS INCEPTION IN ANCIENT ATHENS IT HAS BEEN MORE OR LESS EMBATTLED, UNDER SIEGE FROM INTERNAL CRITICS, EXTERNAL ENEMIES, HOSTILE IDEOLOGIES AND ITS OWN DYSFUNCTION.

ACROSS THE WORLD TODAY, ONLY 14% OF COUNTRIES HAVE FULL ACCOUNTABLE DEMOCRATIC GOVERNMENTS, AND THE PERCENTAGE IS FALLING NOT RISING.

In Australia we’ve done democracy longer, and better, than just about anywhere else in the world. Challenges and threats continue to emerge, just as they always have. But Australian democracy – noisy, rambunctious and assertive – has a track record which suggests that these challenges can be met more successfully here than anywhere else in the world.

“I AM PROUD TO BE THE YOUNGEST WOMAN TO HAVE EVER ENTERED THE FEDERAL PARLIAMENT, BUT MY LEGISLATIVE WORK INCLUDING BILLS TO ALLOW SAME-SEX MARRIAGE, PAID PARENTAL LEAVE, GENETIC PRIVACY AND STEM CELL REFORM ARE SOME OF MY PROUDEST MOMENTS.

YOU CAN CHANGE LIVES FOR THE BETTER WITH THE STROKE OF A PEN IN PARLIAMENT. LEGISLATION CAN BE A MARVELLOUS THING.”

“...I trust that this magnificent initiative, of which we’re part of today, will see the emergence and development not just of the museum which properly honours the past, but that it will be an institution that will stimulate us all to think about how we can help make Australian democracy grow as a beacon in this troubled and fragile world.”

– THE HON BOB HAWKE AC

43% increase in visitation in the last two years

The Museum of Australian Democracy unpacks the secrets of our greatest ever national success story.

Housed in iconic Old Parliament House, the story of Australia’s democracy, what it is now, how it got to be this way, and what it might become in the future, is told in bold and arresting fashion. Hard conversations are embraced not shirked. Failures acknowledged, achievements celebrated, and true, real democratic engagement deepened.

“THE RIGHT TO VOTE IS NOT A RIGHT AT ALL BUT LIKE AN ABORIGINAL CLAN, PART OF A COMPLEX WEB OF RESPONSIBILITIES BUILT TO BEST SERVE OUR SURVIVAL. IT IS BEHOLDEN ON EACH MEMBER OF A DEMOCRACY TO REFLECT ON THE EVIDENCE AND AMASED WISDOM OF THE AGE TO SEE THE WAY FORWARD, TO HAVE FRANK AND FEARLESS DEBATE ABOUT THE SITUATION AT HAND, TO PARTICIPATE RATHER THAN ABSTAIN AND TO EDUCATE YOURSELF ON THE RESPONSIBILITIES BEFORE YOU TRY TO ENACT YOUR RIGHTS.”

ACCESS TO INFORMATION IS A CENTRAL PILLAR OF A FREE AND DEMOCRATIC SOCIETY BECAUSE IT ENABLES INDIVIDUALS TO WEIGH UP QUESTIONS OF POLITICS AND POWER FOR THEMSELVES, RATHER THAN IT BEING FILTERED BY THOSE IN CONTROL.

Restrictions on media freedom and freedom of expression limit the marketplace of ideas and the opportunities for informed engagement.

“...THE IMPORTANCE OF FREEDOM OF EXPRESSION IS SO EASY TO MISS THAT AT TIMES WE NEED TO LOOK BEYOND OUR SHORES TO MORE AUTHORITARIAN STATES IN ORDER TO UNDERSTAND WHAT LIFE MIGHT BE LIKE WITHOUT THE RIGHT TO SPEAK AS WE THINK – WITHOUT THE ABILITY TO OPENLY CRITICISE, PARODY AND DEBATE SOCIAL AND POLITICAL ISSUES.”

PETER GRESTE

“ONLY ONE IN SEVEN PEOPLE LIVE IN COUNTRIES WHERE COVERAGE OF POLITICAL NEWS IS ROBUST, THE SAFETY OF JOURNALISTS IS GUARANTEED, STATE INTRUSION IN MEDIA AFFAIRS IS MINIMAL, AND THE PRESS IS NOT SUBJECT TO ONEROUS LEGAL OR ECONOMIC PRESSURES.”

Our Power of 1 exhibition and Free Speech Floats program broke new ground in creating opportunities for visitor contributions.

The voice of the people – their comments, selfies and statements – are as important as the enriching experience of the physical space. These contributions continue to influence and inform content in the museum.

"I can see both sides but you really want people to be voting who are passionate about the leadership of this country, talk through the issues and care enough to vote."

CIVIC ENGAGEMENT IS THE BEDROCK OF A DEMOCRATIC SOCIETY AND WE ARE LEADING THE WAY IN ENGAGING AUSTRALIA’S YOUNG MINDS AND INSPIRING FUTURE LEADERS.

We provide transformative learning experiences through formal, curriculum-based and age-appropriate programs for schools; and unique, informal experiences through exhibitions, youth parliaments, self-directed learning and online engagement as we explore what it means to be an informed and engaged citizen.

Our internationally award-winning RFID (radio frequency identification) technology underpins many of the onsite experiences, providing a personalised, collaborative experience.

Our school program is one of the mandatory Parliament Civics Education Rebate (PACER) programs, and we work collaboratively with Australian Parliament House (Parliamentary Education Office), National Electoral Education Centre and the Australian War Memorial to provide students and teachers with rich and holistic learning experiences.

"ABSOLUTELY THE MOST IMPORTANT CHANGE FOR WOMEN HAS BEEN OPPORTUNITIES IN EDUCATION. CERTAINLY THAT’S BEEN THE GREATEST ACHIEVEMENT OF THE WOMEN’S MOVEMENT. THERE WERE VERY FEW WOMEN ON AUSTRALIAN CAMPUSES, VERY FEW GIRLS WHO FINISHED SCHOOL TO YEAR 12 WHEN I WAS YOUNG. NOW TO SEE THE MARVELLOUS PARTICIPATION OF WOMEN, IT MAKES MY HEART SING. IT’S NOT JUST IMPORTANT FOR THEM – IT’S SO IMPORTANT FOR OUR COUNTRY AND OUR WORLD."

“IT WAS EVIDENT FROM THE START THAT MUSEUM STAFF SHARED OUR PASSION FOR THE SUBJECT [DEMOCRACY] BUT NEEDED ACADEMIC EXPERTISE TO HELP THEM BUILD A STRONG EVIDENCE BASE TO INFORM THE EXHIBITION [POWER OF 1: DOES YOUR VOICE COUNT?]. THIS WAS A GENUINE MEETING OF THE MINDS FROM THE BEGINNING.”

IN THE WAYS THEY LEAD AND THE WAYS THEY LIVE, OUR PRIME MINISTERS REFLECT ASPECTS OF THE AUSTRALIAN POLITICAL AND SOCIAL CONTEXT OF THEIR TIMES. PRIME MINISTERS PLAY A MAJOR ROLE IN ORIENTING, INFLUENCING AND MANAGING AUSTRALIA THROUGH WAR AND PEACE, BOOM AND BUST, FIRE AND FLOOD.

The Australian Prime Ministers Centre (AMPC) spearheads the museum’s efforts to find out more about our prime ministers and, through them, more about our nation, its political leadership and ourselves. Established in 2007, the APMC has grown into a hub for research and engagement on political leadership.

The APMC’s fellowship and scholarship program has delivered countless publications and presentations that are shaping opinions and research about prime ministers.

“INTELLIGENCE, IMAGINATION, NOUS, STAMINA, GUTS — THESE ARE WHAT IT TAKES TO HANDLE THIS UNIQUE JOB SUCCESSFULLY — AND, USUALLY A DASH OF LUCK.”

MICHELLE GRATTA, JOURNALIST AND AUTHOR, 2008

“FOR THIS JOB A MAN REALLY NEEDS THREE THINGS, OR SOME OF THEM ANYHOW; A HIDE LIKE A RHINOCEROS, AN OVERPOWERING AMBITION, AND A MIGHTY GOOD CONCEIT OF HIMSELF.”

STANLEY MELBOURNE BRUCE, PRIME MINISTER, 1923–29, 1932

After the Port Arthur Massacre of 1996, the Howard government moved to institute uniform firearms laws. Prior to this, regulation of firearms had been left to State governments. The National Firearms Agreement was agreed to be a meeting of all state Police Ministers and Attorney–General Daryl Williams on May 10, twelve days after the massacre. John Howard used his influence to persuade the ministers and their premiers, and announced the deal that evening. Each state and territory then passed its own firearms control laws in line with the Agreement. The Agreement also included the federally funded national buyback scheme and created the Firearms Registry.
The choices we face today are seldom unique; they are issues which have faced Australians across the sweep of our history. Issues such as a classless society, ownership of the land, education for all, an open or closed nation, empire and independence, the social safety net, private enterprise or socialism, conscripts or volunteers, nanny state and basic human rights have shaped policy for decades.

The capacity we need most in order to best live our life in a democracy is the capacity to decide, to discriminate, to work out what we think the most important actions are in new and unexpected situations. The capacity to choose well is at the core of it all. The Museum of Australian Democracy at Old Parliament House empowers Australian citizens of today and tomorrow, creating informed citizens able to participate in the big issues we will face. Our partners/sponsors can also be a part of shaping opinions and driving agenda.

THE MESSAGE IS SIMPLE: AUSTRALIAN DEMOCRACY—ARE YOU IN?
