

Harmony Day

A matrix to celebrate Harmony Day!

These activities support inclusivity, respect and a sense of belonging.

Make a traditional dish to share with others. Write a little note explaining why the recipe is important to you.		Connect with the community to organise a special event at your school or in your classroom where people from diverse communities share with students.	Find out about the local traditional indigenous custodians. Create a personalised acknowledgement of country.
Create an artwork about you. What makes you special? Try using different mediums to create your art. Consider digital art!	Unique hands and hearts. Decorate the cut out shape. Compare your shape with others. Discuss why is each is unique?	Create a museum display showcasing objects, photos and stories. Don't forget to make labels!	 Pick a craft activity to complete and display in your classroom or home!
Flag fun Investigate different flags from around the world. Learn about the what makes one special. Design your own flag to represent everyone on Earth.	Design and make a group quilt or jigsaw puzzle. Each student or family member contributes a piece with words, drawings and symbols special to them.	Start a family recipe book. Add in special recipes, stories of events and photographs.	Investigate the word harmony. Why is it important? Who is it important to? How can it make a difference? Create a presentation.
Create a song, poem or dance to celebrate Harmony Week. 	Watch one of the fantastic little Harmony Week clips from ABC Education.	Compliment Chains. With strips of paper create a compliment chain. Offer one reason as to why someone's difference makes them special. Connect them!	Read pages from Philip Bunting's Who Am I? book. Create a beautiful illustration to celebrate who you are to share with others.

